Finally, why are you submitting this application for candidacy in the Entomology Honors Program? What do you hope to learn, experience, or benefit from by participation in this program?

Attach the following to this page, or send as separate files.

1. Statement of research goals, 1-2 pages, with title, your name, brief background to your research question, research objective, rationale for your approach, and statement of significance.
2. PDF copy of your recent, unofficial transcript from the University of Maryland.
3. A letter of support from your Research Mentor. The letter, dated, signed, and on letterhead, should describe the Mentor's past interaction with the student, define the resources available to the student in the Mentor's lab, and state the willingness to serve as Mentor during the process, ending in the thesis defense.

Submit the application to the Entomology Honors Director, Dr. Karin Burghardt, kburghar@umd.edu
